RE long-term plan

Intent

Religious education in our schools enables every child to flourish and to live life in all its fullness. (John 10:10). It helps educate for dignity and respect, encouraging all to live well together.

Such an approach is offered through a commitment to generous hospitality, being true to our underpinning faith, but with a deep respect for the integrity of other religious traditions (and world views) and for the religious freedom of each person.

The principal aim of RE is to engage children by asking big questions about life in order to find out what people believe and what difference this makes to how they live, so that pupils can make sense of religion and worldviews, reflecting on their own ideas and ways of living.

RE gives pupils a safe space to critically reflect on their own religious, spiritual and/or philosophical convictions.

Religious education makes a significant contribution to pupils' academic and personal development. It also plays a key role in promoting social cohesion and the virtues of respect and empathy, which are important in our diverse society.

Implementation

We teach Religious Education according to the aims of the North Yorkshire Agreed Syllabus (2019-2024). This requires all pupils to learn from Christianity and the other 5 principal faiths in the UK: Islam, Hinduism, Sikhism, Buddhism and Judaism. Non-religious worldviews such as Humanism are also explored. The Christian element of the RE curriculum is taught through the Understanding Christianity resource. World religions are taught through the RE Today agreed syllabus.

The RE curriculum is delivered through aspirational teaching of the three types of knowledge (known as the pillars of progression): Substantive Knowledge: knowledge about various religious and non-religious traditions; Disciplinary knowledge (referred to as "ways of knowing" by OFTSED: pupils learn "how to know" about religion and non-religion; Personal knowledge: pupils build an awareness of their own presuppositions and values about the religious and non-religious traditions they study.

Impact

The RE curriculum is designed to ensure that all learners are able to use their knowledge to succeed in life; implementing the principal aims of RE: learners are engaged in systematic enquiry into significant human questions, which religion and worldviews address; learners develop the understanding and skills needed to appreciate and appraise varied responses to these questions and learners are able to develop responses of their own.
